PREMIER APPEALS TO WESTERN CANADA Police Recapture Nanaimo Bank Bandit Suspects

NATIONAL UNITY KEYNOTE OF MACKENZIE KING'S OPENING SPEECH AT KEEPAWA YESTERDAY

Will Strive to Bring Liberals and Progressives Together on Things They Have in Common; Urges West to Send Full Party Representation to Ottawa.

Regina, Sept. 29.—(Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press).—Twelve hours ahead of his original schedule, Premier King arrived this morning in Regina where he intends to continue his appeal for Western support. In his appeal, Premier King took the ground that only by a party fully representative of the West as of the East, can Liberal policies be given effect. “I appeal to you on the ground of national unity to support this Government,” he declared in his keynote speech at Neepawa last night, and that is the note he intends to sound throughout the Western provinces.

He argues that Liberals and Progressives have much in common and that they should come together to defeat the “common enemy.”

NATURAL ENEMIES

“The Tory party,” he says, “are our natural enemies. Progressives are our natural friends. I am not going to antagonize our friends. I am going to try to bring Liberals and Progressives together on the things they have in common in order that the common enemy may not take charge of the administration of this country.”

There is considerable speculation what the effect of the Premier's appeal will be. The Premier is now presenting a problem before which even the most speculative of political prophets will hesitate. Forecasts are incomplete and conflict. On the one hand, Liberals believe that the Progressive movement in the West is following in the wake of the Progressive movement in Ontario and weakening. They think that in the prairie provinces they will probably secure twenty seats and make gains in rural Ontario, which will more than offset expected losses in the Maritime.

Progressives, on the other hand, are just as confident that they will hold the West. Of the sixty-four seats they captured in the last general election, they took forty seats west of the lakes. Taking into consideration that the prairies have eleven additional seats, Progressives think they will return at least forty to the next Parliament.

TALK OF FACTS

In some of the western constituencies there is talk of local negotiations between Liberals and Progressives with a view to the elimination of three or four seats.

MAYOR WILL TELL RADIO WORLD OF BIG WATER DEAL

Radio Station CFCT Broadcasts Civic Views on Esquimalt Expropriation

To-morrow evening, at 8.30 o'clock, Mayor Carl Pendray will outline to the radio world, from Victoria's radio station CFCT, the official view of the Esquimalt waterworks expropriation.

The necessity for speedy action by himself and Water Commissioner Preston, if the city was to avoid a serious loss of revenue, will be the keynote of Mayor Pendray's brief summary. The great benefit to accrue, with the passing years, will also be a feature of the address. “The city bought a bargain which will make lots of money for us as the years pass,” declared the mayor when accepting the invitation to air his views on the transaction.

With Greater Vancouver and Seattle both in the midst of struggles with water problems, Mayor Pendray is pleased that Victoria's supply has been assured for generations. It is expected that this address will be of interest to civic leaders in many other Coast communities.

AUTO BANDITS HOLD UP BANK MESSENGER

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 29.—Four automobile bandits held up a robbed Reginald Duccette, manager for the Power City Bank, just after 11 o'clock this morning and escaped. They overtook $18,000 in currency in a box in the coupe which Duccette was driving, but took another box containing currency of an undetermined amount.

UPWARD SWING ON GRAIN EXCHANGE

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Active trading, largely by a speculative and local character, gave an upward swing to prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. The advance of wheat ranged from 2 1/2 cents to 2 3/4 cents and marked the initial check to the bearish movement of the past three weeks. All the coarse grains were substantially higher.

FINE EXHIBITS AT SAANICHTON FAIR

Judging Commenced To-day Preliminary to Formal Opening To-morrow

The Agricultural Hall at Saanichton was a hive of activity this morning with exhibitors in the various sections busily engaged in placing their entries in position for the fifty-seventh annual Fall fair of the North and South Saanichton Agricultural Association. Entries are coming in at a pace which suggests that the number will be far ahead of other years, particularly in livestock, and there should be a fine showing when the Hon. E. D. Barrow formally pronounced the exhibition open to-morrow.

Judging commenced this morning in real earnest. Fruit and vegetables in charge of George Robinson and W. H. Robertson of the Department of Agriculture. Field roots will be judged by C. Tice and J. B. Munroe, both selected by the Department of Agriculture. Mrs. Gordon is judge of the domestic science exhibits. Mrs. Abbott of the Hudson's Bay Company, is judge of the women's exhibits in the domestic science branch of the fair. Harry Reid and J. S. Hickford are the judges of the poultry and rabbits, respectively.

The cattle and other livestock will be judged to-morrow morning. Geo. Hopkins of Courtenay judging the cattle, sheep and swine, and J. S. Holland having charge of the horses. As in former years the sports programme will be a big feature of the fair, and in the schools sports competition over 500 entries have been received in the various events. Another interesting attraction will be the playing of the Sea Cadets' band to-morrow afternoon.

Some of the finest exponents of Highland dancing in Victoria and district will enter the competition for Highland dancing, under the supervision of Capt. C. R. Wilson who will be in charge.

With every prospect of a continuance of the bright, sunny weather, the officials in charge of the fair anticipate a record attendance during the three days. The fair will conclude, as in previous years, with the annual ball of the association on Friday evening when Ozard's four-piece orchestra will be in attendance.

THIEVES WERE CAUGHT IN STOLEN CLOTHING

Swift Current, Sept. 29.—In a general roundup here, provincial police arrested five men and secured a large quantity of goods stolen from a general store at Hutton, Sask. The roundup followed the capture of Aubrey Mitchell when he stepped from a train here. All the men were new clothing, some with tags still attached.

RAILWAY COMMISSION HEARS MONTREAL APPLICATION TO BLOCK LOW RATE TO WEST

Eastern Trade Board Calls for Revision of Order Applying Crow's Nest Rates on Grain and Flour to Pacific Coast Traffic.

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—(Canadian Press).—Application of the Montreal Board of Trade for revision of the recent order of the Railway Commission issued by Chief Commissioner McKeown and Commissioner Oliver applying Crow's Nest rates on grain and flour to westbound traffic was heard by the commission this morning with a full bench of commissioners sitting.

Provincial governments, municipalities and Boards of Trade from New Brunswick to British Columbia were represented. The hearing of argument on the application probably will occupy at least a couple of days.

MONTREAL CRITICISM

Eugene Lafleur, K.C., counsel for the Montreal Board of Trade, attacked the McKeown-Oliver order on the ground that it was contrary to the spirit and letter of the order-in-council which authorized the railway commission to inquire into rates throughout the Dominion and to establish a new rate structure on the basis of fairness to all sections of the country. The order-in-council, he maintained, clearly indicated that it was the intention of the government that rates for the whole country should be the subject of a general inquiry and a general new structure. It was contrary to the intention of the government that rates for one section should be dealt with separately. Mr. Lafleur argued also that the order-in-council required the commission to inquire into rates on Pacific rates was contrary to the decision of the full board arrived at first on July 2 last and re-stated on September 22. He held that it was ultra vires of the powers of the two commissioners to issue such a judgment. He declared that the members of the commission in giving judgment on Pacific rates were not acting in accordance with the decision of the full board.

B.C. ADVOCATE

G. G. McGeer, K.C., for the province of British Columbia, sought to have an order issued requiring the C.P.R. to file its tariff on rates of grain and flour, under the McKeown-Oliver order, but his proposal was not dealt with this morning.

WANTS BOOKS PRODUCED

Mr. McGeer for British Columbia applied for an order calling upon the Canadian Pacific Railway to produce books showing tariffs pursuant to the Crow's Nest Agreement of 1927. Counsel for the railway company maintained that the tariffs were already sufficiently on record, holding that the principle of the application should be proceeded with. Mr. McGeer offered the opinion that the C.P.R. was in contempt of court in not having complied with the recent order of the board. He had come here expecting to find the tariffs on file, but had discovered that those on grain and flour had either not been filed or had been taken away. Mr. McGeer also argued that the recent order of the Board should be extended to compel the railway companies to comply with it.

Body of Portland Man First of Thirty-five Recovered

New York, Sept. 29.—The Independent Wireless Company received a message at noon to-day from the Easthampton station announcing that the S-51 had been raised to the surface and that all on board were dead.

A second body, that of William Charles Teschemacher, of Bangor, Pa., was taken from the submarine this forenoon, a radio dispatch to the naval ship at Newport stated.

TWO MEN WHO BROKE FROM KING COUNTY JAIL IN COILS OF SEATTLE POLICE AGAIN

Caught After Hold-up of Queen City Bank in Fremont, Outlying District of City; Made First Escape September 15 With Four Other Prisoners.

Seattle, Sept. 29.—Two of three men who held up the Queen City Bank in Fremont, an outlying district of Seattle to-day and obtained $5,000 were captured and identified as T. H. Johnson and James Burns. Johnson and Burns, who, with four other prisoners, broke from the King County jail September 15, were being held there as suspects in the $42,000 Nanaimo bank robbery. The other robber was captured soon after Burns and Johnson.

PISTOL DUEL

Policeman O. Rush followed the robbers as they left the bank. He seized a passing automobile and followed them for twenty-five blocks.

The three robbers jumped from the car in which they had fled from the bank and Rush engaged in a pistol duel with Johnson.

Fifty policemen were rushed to the block where Rush had brought the fugitives to bay and they surrounded the block.

The fleeing trio had left their automobile when it collided with a truck.

The other four who broke from the county jail after herding three officials in a cell and locking them there were Alvah Kilbourne, Everett, Wash., held for robbing the State Bank of Bothell, ten miles north of Seattle, June 5, when he was wounded and citizens shot two of his companions dead; Floyd G. Richardson, convicted with two others of shooting Patrolman R. L. Liffey to death here September 25, 1924; Joe Ward, convicted of holding the Bothell Bank up January 20, and Ed. Watson, who was serving ninety days for assault, Kilbourne and Ward stopped a salesman, Harry Murgatroy, near the city shortly after the break, but that was the last definite track of the four until Rush led to-day's capture.

USED DUMMY GUNS

Johnson and Burns, or Gambertoll, were two of the party of four who escaped from jail at Seattle through the use of false pistols and a little ingenuity. When captured, they were being returned to the cells he backed.

COMPULSORY CITY MANAGER NOT PROPOSED

Government Has no Intention of Foistering New Scheme on Cities, Says Oliver

Vancouver Council Worried Unnecessarily Over Reports of New Policy

Municipalities of British Columbia which have shown alarm recently at reports that the Government would soon put them under the city manager form of Government are roused without reason as the Government has no intention of passing any compulsory city manager legislation.

This statement from Premier Oliver to-day followed the decision of the Vancouver City Council to oppose the compulsory establishment of city managers in the municipalities of British Columbia. The Vancouver city authorities, Mr. Oliver explained, have no reason to fear.

“The matter has not been considered by the Government,” he said. “Should any legislation be passed then it would not be compulsory, but would depend upon the voluntary entrance of the municipalities into the city manager form of government.”

NATIONAL UNITY KEYNOTE OF MACKENZIE KING'S OPENING SPEECH AT NEEPAWA YESTERDAY

Mr. King expressed the view in his speech at Neepawa last night that a great national political party could better represent the needs of all sections of the community than any party could which represented only a class or a particular section of the country. He thought that Senator Watson (who was on the platform) would be one of the first to support Senate reform.

UNITY

The Premier declared that he had come to deliver to the people of the West the message of Canadian unity. He had come to urge that the policies which the Government had in view could only be made to prevail by a great united Liberal Party. "I am not going to appeal to you from the point of view of the Government," added Mr. King, "but from the point of view of your own interests."

Mr. King discussed the difficulties which had faced the Government and why there had been an appeal to the people. The Government, he said, could have remained in office. Some members of Parliament who were neither Liberals nor Conservatives had come to him and promised them support if he would have another session. "But," added the Premier, "I want a fighting majority. I want such a majority behind this administration that when it came forward with measures which are needed by the great people, those policies will prevail."

He pressed the contention that the Government had given economical administration and honest administration.

"In view of that," questioned Mr. King, "is it in the interests of the people to change the Government for one formed by Mr. Meighen?"

"Fine," observed a voice at the back of the hall. "Sure."

"What are you sure about?" retorted Mr. King. "But I notice you are the only voice, and it is a weak one at that."

PROGRESSIVE FRIENDS

Mr. King turned more particularly to the West. He observed that at the last election the prairie provinces had returned only two Liberals and one Independent Liberal—or two and a half Liberals. From the Great Lakes to the Pacific, the Government had only six followers returned.

He spoke of Conservatives as the national enemies of Liberals, of Progressives as the national friend of Liberals.

"I am not going to antagonize our friends," he declared. "I am going to try to bring Liberals and Progressives together on the things they have in common in order that the common enemy may not take charge of the administration of this country."

He declared that when he formed his administration, he invited Progressives to name two members who could take into his Cabinet.

He was prepared, he added, to take in three or four Progressives that the West might have Cabinet representation. But the offer was not accepted.

THE CABINET

"I was told," observed Mr. King, "that the Progressive party had fought as a separate party and could not consider coming into the Government. But this, went on the Premier, did not deter him in his endeavor to give cabinet representation to the West. He took in former Premier Stewart of Alberta and tried to get the Alberta members to open a seat for him. But not one of them would give way. "They were not prepared to have Alberta unrepresented in the cabinet for four years rather than give up one seat. One of the Quebec members gave way for Mr. Stewart and eventually, for the first time since confederation, cabinet representation was given to every province."

Mr. King did not, however, believe that it would be possible to repeat the offer to Progressives.

"I ask the West to send men from whom I can choose Ministers of the Crown who will know and understand Western needs and be able to see

T. H. Johnson, according to the story of identification witnesses at the extradition hearing, was one of the men who participated in the bandit operations at Nanaimo on December 12 last when $42,000 was taken from the vaults of the Royal Bank in a bold daylight robbery. It was Johnson, said extradition witnesses, who acted as director of the portion of the operations nearest the door of the bank.

James Burns, alias Edward Gembertol, the other Nanaimo suspect caught in the chase in Seattle today, is a man of short stature and shaggy teeth.

DESCRIPTIONS CIRCULATED

Official word of the retaking of Johnson and Burns was not received here by the Provincial Police at the time of going to press. The descriptions of the two men had been widely circulated throughout the northwest in the hope of their recapture but the authorities had not looked for recapture in the novel manner it came about.

RAILWAY COMMISSION
HEARS MONTREAL

Commissioner Boyce was not satisfied that there was need for an order for the production of tariffs by the C.P.R. and the point was passed over.

Proceeding with the argument of British Columbia against the application of the Montreal board of trade, Mr. McGee submitted that the statutory course open to those opposed to the board's order was not in such an appeal as was being made, but in appeal to the Governor-in-Council or to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. McGee interpreted the Montreal application as one asking that the members of the board, who heard the case in question, should not have power to give a binding judgment. He objected to such an application being considered.

Chief Commissioner McKewen, in reply to Mr. McGee's contentions ruled that the application of the Montreal Board of Trade would be proceeded with.

DISPUTES SEPARATE RATES

Mr. Lafleur, supporting the application, quoted from the order-in-council authorizing the Railway Commission to investigate railway rates and formulate a new rate structure that would be fair and equitable to all parts of the country. He maintained that it was clear in the order-in-council that the intention of the Government was that rates for all parts of the Dominion should be dealt with at one and the same time.

The granting of separate rates for one section of the country he held to be in violation of the spirit and letter of the order-in-council. The commission, he argued, was not authorized to consider a local case separately but only to deal with the entire matter of a rate structure.

He contended that interested parties had so understood the matter and had no opportunity of putting in evidence in connection with the subject of the board's recent order.

STILL BEFORE BOARD

Commissioner Vien suggested that the whole matter of rates, including those affected by the recent order, was still before the board.

Mr. Lafleur continuing, argued that the two members who issued the order, Chief Commissioner McKewen and Commissioner Oliver, had in effect taken it upon themselves to set aside the decision of the majority of the board that the West-bound grain rates should be part of the general inquiry. The two commissioners who gave the minority judgment should have recognized, he submitted, that the rates involved affected the whole country. The board had so determined by its ruling of July 9.

The judgment issued by Commissioners McKewen and Oliver, he declared, had not been issued on evidence, but on new conditions.

NEWEST MEMBER

The newest member of the board,

Commissioner Vien, took a prominent part in the discussion. He offered the suggestion at various times that it had not been established by Mr. Lafleur that the two commissioners were outside their rights in rendering the judgment. Commissioner Boyce, on the other hand, supported counsel's argument that the action was without precedent in the records of the board.

CLAIMS DISCRIMINATION

J. K. Smith, secretary of the Montreal Board of Trade, submitted rates on grain and flour as they stand under the new order between various points East and West, arguing from them that rates Westward to the Pacific ports discriminated against Montreal.

The more important of these rates on the basis of cents per 100 pounds were as follows:

Peterboro to Montreal . . . 24 18 25
Keewau to St. William . . . 24 18 25
Chatham to Montreal . . . 24 18 25
St. William to Montreal . . . 24 18 25
Cavell to Vancouver . . . 24 18 25
Peterboro to St. John . . . 24 18 25
Indian Head to Ft. William . . . 24 18 25
St. John to Montreal . . . 24 18 25

Mr. Smith emphasized the difference between the rates from Fort William to Montreal and those from Cavell to Vancouver.

BUFFALO AND NEW YORK

Commissioner Oliver asked Mr. Smith how it was that two out of every three bushels of grain shipped from Fort William was exported through Buffalo and New York.

Mr. Smith replied that he was not interested in the grain going to Buffalo and New York, only in that going to Montreal.

"Do you mean to say the Montreal Board of Trade is not interested in Buffalo taking grain away from Montreal?" Commissioner Oliver asked.

Mr. Smith did not answer.

"They are interested in keeping it away from Vancouver," interjected Mr. McGee.

COMMUNISTS AND JEWS START RIOT

Montreal, Sept. 29.—A riot yesterday afternoon on St. Lawrence Boulevard, between Jews and Communists, necessitated the intervention of a squad of sixty policemen and several motorcycle officers.

The trouble started when a Communist club, known as the Workers' Circle, invited all its Hebrew members to partake of a meal at the club house to-day, being Yom Kippur, or "Day of Atonement," sacred to those of the Jewish faith.

It is understood certain pamphlets were distributed which brought matters to a head.

RICHARD RINGLING OF CIRCUS FAME MUST PAY HEAVY DAMAGES

Helena, Mont., Sept. 29.—Richard T. Ringling, rancher and circus man, must pay adjustment of $322,480 damages to Hans Biering and M. S. Cunningham, cattle men, the Montana supreme court ruled to-day in affirming a decision by the lower court.

Ringling, it was alleged, took property held by the Taylor's Fork Cattle Company, which Biering and Cunningham claimed to own as partners. They sued to recover $546,000 and the court awarded adjustment of $322,480.

In his appeal, Ringling asserted the Southern Montana Livestock Company was organized to permit him to relieve the Taylor's Fork Cattle Company from financial difficulties. The plaintiffs alleged he looted the Southern Montana Company and bankrupted them.

WHEAT POOL DENIES PLAN TO ELIMINATE VANCOUVER DEALERS

Selling Wheat to Highest Bidder Irrespective of Who He Is, Alberta Manager Says

Calgary, Sept. 29.—The charge that the Alberta wheat pool has quoted foreign buyers the same cargo at three cents a bushel less than Vancouver exporters could get the same grain for, is ridiculous, stated George MacIvor, western sales manager of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers Limited. In the course of an interview on Monday, when shown an article to this effect in a Vancouver newspaper, Mr. MacIvor said that the pool had no other object in mind than to sell wheat to the highest responsible bidder, irrespective of nationality.

Articles in the coast newspaper said that "there is a feeling among grain exporters of this port that the Canadian wheat pool is endeavoring to eliminate the dealers here, as it is claimed that the pool is selling, and prefers to sell, to foreign buyers in preference to exporters."

"Two steamers are close in and at a late hour yesterday the cargo for one boat was bought at a loss to the exporter, while there was no sign of grain for the other ship."

Mr. MacIvor in comment on this said: "It is my firm belief that the grain interests of Vancouver, above everything else, believe in the future of Vancouver as a grain port, and to say the least, I am surprised that any of these grain interests should treat a matter of such paramount importance to them in such a trivial manner."

"It is very unfortunate that some of the exporters have had a cargo to load and have evidently had to pay such a large premium on wheat that this cargo was loaded at a loss. But how can they blame the pool for this? The weather is something over which the pool has no control, and the pool could not very well sell wheat for early delivery when they had no means of delivering it. The biggest percentage of Alberta's wheat crop is yet in the stock, and as to how soon it will be moved will depend entirely on the weather."

"Vancouver interests say there should be a 'showdown' between the port and the wheat pool. The wheat pool are quite prepared for anything of this nature, but why should Vancouver want a 'showdown' with an institution that is more vitally interested in the development of the western route than Vancouver itself? Surely the Vancouver interests have not referred to their records, otherwise they would have known that during the last year the wheat pool have been by far the biggest shipper from the port of Vancouver, and all things being equal, will continue to be a big shipper from the port of Vancouver."

"The charge that the pool has quoted foreign buyers same cargo at three cents a bushel, less than the exporter could get the same grain for, is ridiculous. The pool have no other object in mind than to sell their wheat to the highest responsible bidder, irrespective of nationality. When the weather clears up and wheat again begins to move, and if the pool have any wheat for sale, just as long as Vancouver exporters will bid on an equal basis with other buyers they will get their share of pool wheat," said Mr. MacIvor.

FARM HELP DEMAND EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY

These orders are from practically all parts of the province, though coming mostly from a radius of 100 miles of Edmonton.

Experience is what you get while you are looking for something else.

DORIS KENYON
IN "BORN RICH"
NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

Doris Kenyon, along with Bert

Lytell, Claire Windsor, Cullen Landis,

J. Barney Sherry, Frank Morgan,

Maude Turner Gordon and Jackie Ott,

form the all-star cast of "Born Rich" showing at the Playhouse Theatre all this week.

Miss Kenyon graduated from

Barnard School for Girls. She was eighteen years old and was faced with leading the usual sort of life for a "well-to-do" girl. She had always trained her voice, more for pleasure than with any thought of ever going on the stage. One night at a party she met Victor Herbert.

He heard her sing and told her that she should try for a musical career. Her first appearance on any stage was in "Princess Pat," a musical comedy, and she was quickly elevated to stardom.

Miss Kenyon always preferred the stage to motion pictures. Then motion pictures. The past few years have found her working in motion pictures and on the stage at the same upon a screen career, however. Most actors or actresses usually prefer the stage to the screen or the screen to the two arts are so different and so far apart that she really cannot de-

MEIGHEN ALWAYS READY TO DESTROY, SAYS PROGRESSIVE

Third Party Leader Would Like to See Him Offer
Something Positive

Progressives Behind King in Attempt to Break Ocean
Combine

Brandon, Man., Sept. 29.—“We are strong in the West, but I am satisfied that the day is coming when we will win the Dominion,” Robert Forke, Progressive leader, told an audience here last night. The people in the East were apt to forget sometimes, the 2,000,000 people between the head of the lakes and the mountains, whose economic welfare must be considered.

Speaking of divisions within the Progressive ranks, Mr. Forke pointed out that certain Alberta members were not Progressive. “They do not call themselves Progressives, but rather United Farmers of Alberta,” said Mr. Forke. “These members, however, worked with the Progressives of Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

OPPOSES AMALGAMATION
Mr. Forke attacked the senate railway committee scheme for amalgamation of the C.P.R. and National systems with its guarantee of 7 per cent to Canadian Pacific Railway shareholders.

Duplication must be eliminated and capitalization of the national railways must be written down before any amalgamation scheme should be approached, though amalgamation scheme should be approached, though amalgamation might be the last resort.

In 1922 and again in 1924 the Progressive group in the House of Commons had saved the Crow's Nest rates from being washed out. The Progressive leader reviewed the history of the Government's experience with the Petersen contract.

If Premier King, he said, had a reasonable solution to offer, he would like to see him bring into this campaign something positive.

“Mr. Meighen has ably criticized the Petersen contract. Mr. Meighen seems always content to destroy. I would like to see him bring into this campaign something positive.”

WOMEN WANT TO BECOME BEAUTIFUL

Want Change Completed
Within an Hour, Says Vivian, of “The Beauty Shop”

Society women want to look like Mary Garden or other noted stage beauties according to Vivian, the pretty private secretary to Dr. Arbutus Budd, the beauty doctor, now in this city. The most distressing part of the ambition for new beauty on the part of women is that the change must be accomplished in at least an hour.

“And you should see some of the faces that have to make over,” says Vivian. “They're terrible. But still we have never had a failure, and I think our work in the third act when we convert the homely Natalie into the real flower of Corsica will recommend our treatments to all.”

The work of Dr. Budd is revealed in the musical comedy, “The Beauty Shop,” which is to be given at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The part of Vivian is being played by Betty Hetherington, and she will prove a very welcome addition to local amateur theatricals. Possessing a very charming voice and portraying a niece of the delicate art of being a real secretary, Betty Hetherington is certain to score heavily with the audiences at the Royal this week.

So much interest has been stirred up over “The Beauty Shop” that the staff at the box office of the theatre has been kept constantly on the move for two days passing tickets through the window to the customers. The Gyros are assured of full house at all shows.

EVANGELIST HOLDS BAPTISMAL SERVICE

The Old Variety Theatre witnessed an unusual scene last evening, when sixteen people were immersed in water, following a stirring message given by Evangelist W. E. Booth-Clibborn.

The building was well filled with an enthusiastic audience.

A hush fell upon the people, as the first candidate, a young lad of fourteen, stepped into the water, and gave his personal testimony to the saving power of Jesus Christ.

A younger boy then appeared, and in clear tones, proudly testified to his belief in Christ. These two were followed by fourteen more, both men and women.

Evangelist W. E. Booth-Clibborn is commencing the fourth week of the campaign, which is daily growing in interest and power.

A special feature of the meetings is the splendid music rendered by a choir which is led by the Evangelist's violin.

BARQUENTINE FOREST DREAM ADDING FOR VOYAGE HALF AROUND THE GLOBE BY SAIL

"Speed is the Thing," Says Her Mate, and Mascots
Are no Longer in Fashion; Twelve Men Will Spend
Third of a Year in Rounding Two Capes.

A voyage of 12,000 miles in a windjammer is the prospect ahead of the crew of the Forest Dream, which will clear from this port next week for Port Louis, capital of Mauritius.

The Forest Dream will load 1,000,000 feet of lumber at the C.P.S. mills where she is now lying, and will sail with close on 2,000,000 feet of creosote piling before coming here from Vancouver. Capt. Walter H. Meyers and a Seattle crew are on board.

The Forest Dream is one of the few sailers to touch this port in recent years, and is typical of the old type craft under modern operation. There are no masts on board, not even so much as a black cat or a rabbit's foot. The crew of twelve men may be added to, but the twelve have no qualms about the number "thirteen" being "superstition and all that stuff is gone," says her mate, a Frenchman who has spent all his days in sail. "Everything to-day is speed. Speed in loading, speed in voyage, speed with cargo, speed everywhere. It is no wonder that sailing days are passing. Even with this stuff—and here he pointed to the lumber slings dropping down into her holds—it is speed that counts."

"Mascots," he continued reflectively. "No, mascots are gone too. We have twelve on board, and it was thirteen. The old days have gone, and with it much that was ripe to go. Speed is the thing to-day, speed in loading, speed in voyage, speed with cargo, speed everywhere. It is no wonder that sailing days are passing. Even with this stuff—and here he pointed to the lumber slings dropping down into her holds—it is speed that counts."

One by one the sailers have passed into other hands. The Forest Dream changed hands when her present owners in Vancouver failed to secure charter space available for the out of the way destination of the present shipment. It is cheaper to buy than to charter for the odd corners of the globe, it is said.

When loaded here the Forest Dream will be towed down the Strait and set her sails for Port Louis, round Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope in a 12,000-mile voyage, expected to last four months. She is victualled for months longer, and is all ready to go just as soon as her cargo is on board.

The twelve men who from her complement will be towed down the Strait and set her sails for Port Louis, round Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope in a 12,000-mile voyage, expected to last four months. She is victualled for months longer, and is all ready to go just as soon as her cargo is on board.

"But there will be lots to do," says the mate, "pointing to the five tall sticks, four-rigged fore-and-aft and one square rigged, and bearing even in the barren wastes of the old-fashioned charm of a barquentine under full sail."

TELLS HOW HUGE SALMON REACHED 85-POUND MARK

Babcock Reveals Life Story of Monster Caught Off Victoria Recently
Started Career in Fresh Water
Early and Lived Like Fal-staff, He Says

Just how the eighty-five pound salmon caught recently in the Straits of Juan de Fuca managed to reach its enormous size was explained by John P. Babcock, leading Canadian fish authority and Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries for British Columbia in a statement issued to-day after he had examined the monstrous specimen.

"This eighty-five pound white spring salmon which was caught in a trap in Juan de Fuca Strait last month is shown, from an examination of its scales submitted to me, to be a five-year-old fish," said Mr. Babcock. "Like most of the other record weight spring salmon, it is of the 'sea-type,' that is, it left fresh water early in the spring of its first year and passed virtually all its life in fresh water. Ordinarily most spring salmon spend their first year in fresh water and migrate to sea in the second spring of their lives and live in the sea for three or four years. Those that spend one year in fresh water grow but a few inches in length during that period. On reaching salt water, they find food much more abundant and grow rapidly."

"This eighty-five pound fish migrated to sea soon after it reached the swimming stage and therefore grew much more rapidly the first year than it would have done had it remained that year in fresh water. Having lived in the sea for five years—one year more than the average—it was enabled to grow to greater weight than is usual to the individuals of its race. While it is close to the record, it is not the record spring salmon taken in British Columbia waters. It is not the record on the Coast. Spring salmon weighing over ninety pounds have been taken in the Columbia. This eighty-five pound fish, however, must have been a gluton—a regular Polaris."

FISH ROOM LONG WAY
And talking of salmon, some very interesting tagging experiments have been conducted by the Biological Board of Canada on the West Coast of Vancouver Island and Northern British Columbia this past summer. Some hundreds of spring salmon that were being hauled by trolling light cruises were returning from their friendly calls in local waters.

the tall. They were tagged and liberated in order to trace their movements and gain additional data as to growth. Several of these tagged fish have been caught in Puget Sound and Fraser River waters, as was naturally to be expected. Several others were caught in the Columbia River. The record traveler of them all, however, is the one, just reported, caught near Pittsburg on the Sacramento River, in California. That fish appears to have wandered farther than the one that Dr. Gilbert tagged for the United States Bureau of Fisheries on the southeastern side of the Alaska peninsula in 1923, that was recaptured in Siberia that fall.

AUTHORITIES CO-OPERATE
It will be recalled that the fishery executives of the United States, Canada, British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California met in Seattle last March and organized for uniform investigation of the Pacific salmon. One of the measures adopted provided for the tagging of salmon in salt water from Monterey Bay, California, Alaska, during the past summer. The first returns of that work are just coming in, and while it is too early to reach definite conclusions, those marked off Vancouver Island that have been recaptured in the Columbia, and the one caught in the Sacramento, indicate, at least, that some spring salmon from those rivers are at times associated on the West Coast of Vancouver Island with those from the Fraser. Further developments are anticipated, as many of the fish tagged were small, in their second year, and will not mature for two or three years.

When loaded here the Forest Dream will be towed down the Strait and set her sails for Port Louis, round Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope in a 12,000-mile voyage, expected to last four months. She is victualled for months longer, and is all ready to go just as soon as her cargo is on board.

FISHERY PATROL PLANES BACK TO WINNER QUARTERS

Flying Officers Patrolled
Queen Charlotte Waters
During Summer

The summer fishery patrol post of the B.C. Air station at Digby Island is now closed and the flying boats operating there returned to the winter base at Jericho Beach. Flying officer Allan H. Hull, the last to leave, will fly back to-day.

The B.C. Air Station officers have conducted this year a more extensive fishery patrol than formerly and great success met their labors in the Northern field, it is stated. The aircraft used were heavy duty boats, capable of standing severe conditions and kept serviceable by the skeleton staff at Digby Island.

The flying boats of the Digby Island and post patrolled the fishery grounds off the Queen Charlotte Island and in that neighborhood, acting in conjunction with the several authorities in the fishery protection service. With the exception of one minor mishap the service this year was completely successful, it is stated.

SAY FISHING
BOAT CARRIED
RUM CARGOES
Seattle, Sept. 29.—The fishing boat K. 81, said by coastguard men to have been carrying a cargo of rum, was seized yesterday.

The Ms. Canada, northbound from European points, is due at William Head at 3 p.m. to-day, and will pass up to Vancouver as soon as she secures pratique.

The Yomel Maru, inbound from the Orient for Vancouver, is expected at William Head at 6 p.m. to-day, according to the B.C. Pilotage Association.

The C.G.M.M. Canadian Skirmisher is expected to make port here Wednesday afternoon from Montreal via Panama ports for Vancouver. The Canadian Observer, in the coastal run, is expected to make port by daylight to-morrow. Both craft will tie up at the Ogden Point docks. The Canadian Pioneer, northbound from Antwerp for Vancouver, may not call here on this trip, it is said, but may pass up direct for Tacoma for the discharge of United States freight on board.

MAYBE HE DOES
The New York biologist who says beautiful women are becoming extinct perhaps never goes to the movies—or maybe he does.

An Eastern potentate was dining at a London hotel when an attentive waiter noticed that a little glass containing gold toothpicks was empty. He promptly put some more toothpicks in the glass. At this the potentate made an angry gesture and uttered some choleric sounds. "What's that?" asked the waiter of the interpreter, who replied: "His Highness says he has already eaten two and that he does not like them."

CAN ARTHUR TACKLE THEM?

H. F. ALEXANDER OUT

The H. F. Alexander, outbound this evening in the special run to New York, is posted to sail from Seattle at 5 o'clock and will arrive here at 9 o'clock to sail two hours later for sea. Fifty passengers will join her. The H. F. Alexander will carry a record list in the coast-to-coast excursion of the line. Later she will enter the New York-Florida route for the winter season. Stops at Balboa, Colon and Panama ports are scheduled with landing parties at many places. The voyage will take twenty days by the crack flyer of the Admiral Line.

FORMER PUAKO FINDS NEW LIFE IN LUMBER LOADS

Hell Fire Pedersen's Famous Barquentine Making Good in New Service

Prince Rupert, Sept. 29.—Unloading of 1,000,000 feet of logs at the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills from the Heate Straits Trading Company's log-carrying barge Drumrock was accomplished recently, and the vessel will then be taken to the dry dock where some minor adjustments will be made. The barge is to be taken back to Logan Inlet to load logs for Powell River.

Commander B. L. Johnson, head of the Heate Straits Trading Company, who made the trip to Prince Rupert aboard the Drumrock on her initial trip, stated that he had been pleased with the very satisfactory performance of the Drumrock, formerly the barquentine Puako. She had made the passage from Logan Inlet to Prince Rupert at an average speed of seven knots, a speed it was intended to maintain regularly. The tug Lorne, Captain A. E. Lewis, will be permanently commissioned to tow the Drumrock.

The Drumrock is in command by Captain Collins who has had wide experience in towing work on the coast of seven knots, a speed it was intended to maintain regularly. The tug Lorne, Captain A. E. Lewis, will be permanently commissioned to tow the Drumrock.

SEALING AWARD LONG DEFERRED

San Franciscan Obtains Judgment For $77,710 on Claim Entered in 1891

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—In the first of a series of cases in which the United States Government allowed itself to be sued for sums aggregating more than a million dollars for damages for seizure in 1891 of sealing vessels that operated in Bering Sea, Federal Judge Frank Kerrigan yesterday awarded $77,710 to Capt. T. H. P. Whitlaw of this city.

The award represents the value of seals which Capt. Whitlaw's vessel, the La Nina, might have taken in 1891 and 1892 had it not been seized by ships of the United States, and money spent by him as a result of its seizure and condemnation at Sitka. The condemnation was reversed in 1896 by the United States district court in San Francisco, which held the United States had no jurisdiction over the waters of Bering Sea outside the three-mile limit.

The action for damages of which Capt. Whitlaw's was the first was made possible by an act of Congress permitting the suits to be brought against the Federal Government.

GRAIN LOADING AND MARKETING CREATE RECORD

Interesting Comparisons For Twenty-five Years Are Made

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Some comparisons of crop movement on the Canadian Pacific Railway for twenty-five years are now interesting. In 1900 the total wheat crop in the three prairie provinces amounted to 17,053,548 bushels which, at the time, taxed the facilities of the railway for several months to move this amount of grain. In 1925, from September 1 up to and including September 26, a period of twenty-two working days, there were marketed on the Canadian Pacific alone a total of 45,552,051 bushels of wheat and 10,282,503 bushels of other grains, or a total of 55,835,554 bushels. During the same period a total of 31,181 cars, representing 45,552,260 bushels, have been loaded and moved.

In the twenty-two working days so far this month the amount of grain marketed on the Canadian Pacific would be sufficient to feed the entire population of Canada for one year. Allowing six bushels per capita for standard consumption.

To date 28,650 loads have been moved east from Winnipeg since September 1, or an average of 1,061 cars per day. Approximately 2,025,000 bushels have left Winnipeg over the Canadian Pacific every twenty-four hours during the past seven days, eleven miles of cars loaded with grain having been dispatched east from Winnipeg daily during the past week. Since September 1 approximately 25,000 loads have been delivered at the head of the lakes. The marketing and loading of grain, so far this month, have exceeded any previous period in the history of the company by approximately thirty per cent, this notwithstanding the fact that rain in certain portions of the prairie provinces, especially Alberta, has seriously interfered with the threshing for several days during the past two weeks.

Since September 14 there have been dispatched by route from Port Arthur and Port Arthur a total of 23,195,509 bushels of grain.

Veteran Master

Capt. J. H. Trask Now Senior Master of Oceanic Steamship Company

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—Twenty-six years of continuous service with the Oceanic Steamship Company has won for Capt. J. H. Trask the rank of commodore of the fleet. When the liner Sierra backs into the stream to-day and the thrum of the Golden Gate it will carry Commodore Trask's flag at the foremast. When the ship "crosses the line" and swings under the Southern Cross, the crew of the Sierra will honor its commander with a ceremony that has long been the tradition of the seas.

The T. K. K. liner Korea Maru will steam from this port to-day for the Orient with a large passenger list and a heavy cargo. When the Korea Maru arrives here it will report that large quantities of narcotics were concealed aboard. Customs searchers and men employed by the company failed to locate a single tin of opium or a bundle of narcotics and the vessel will sail with a clean bill.

The Swedish motorship Axel Johnson, one of two built in Gothenburg for the Johnson line, arrived yesterday. The vessel is the latest acquisition to the Johnson fleet operating between San Francisco and Scandinavian and other European ports.

AFRICA MARU HAS HEAVY SILKS FOR EASTERN CENTRES

O.S.K. Liner Narrowly Tops
Own Record With 5,465
Bales on Board

Inbound from the Orient with 5,465 bales of raw silk and seventeen tons of silk goods the Africa Maru made port this afternoon.

Capt. K. Komiya, on the bridge of the O.S.K. liner, is repeating the record of the Africa Maru for carrying bumper silk cargoes. Some time ago Capt. Komiya brought the O.S.K. craft to this coast with 15,000,000 yards worth of raw silk in its hold. The present cargo approaches that figure but will not pass it. It will go East by the Chicago, Milwaukee road.

Two first class and seventy-nine steerage passengers will embark here, while thirteen first and sixteen steerage will step ashore at Seattle. The Africa Maru has thirty-seven bags of mail for Canadian points and about ten bags for the seaplane post to Seattle.

Other cargo shipments on the liner include eighty-seven tons of lily bulbs for the Christmas trade; eighty tons of porcelain and earthenware; 500 tons of bean meal; twenty tons white beans, and a large tonnage of general wares and Oriental merchandise. Some 700 tons of vegetable in bulk was also loaded at Orient ports.

GRAIN LOADINGS CONTINUE HEAVY ON WESTERN LINES

Canadian National Report
Three Times Normal Volume of Grain

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 29.—Breaking all records for a single day's loading of grain into cars on the Western lines of the Canadian National Railway, farmers and elevator companies in Western Canada on Saturday loaded 1,557 cars, containing 2,596,000 bushels. The nearest total to this came on September 18, 1923, when 1,486 cars were loaded.

Total loadings are now almost three times heavier than on any day in the last year. From August 1, the opening of the grain year, to midnight on Saturday last, 24,817 cars containing 33,084,000 bushels of grain had been loaded at C.N.R. points, against 8,747 cars with 11,586,000 bushels at the same date in 1924.

That this year's grain movement is being handled with even greater dispatch than the record 1923 movement on the Canadian National is shown by the fact that more than 5,000 additional cars have been loaded than in 1923, and more than 600 additional cars have been delivered at the lake head.

Grain in storage at country points on the C.N.R. now totals nearly 11,000,000 bushels, against 11,000,000 at the same date two years ago.

BAY RUPERT IS BUILDING NOW AT SCOTTISH YARDS

Hudson's Bay Company Have Ordered New Vessel For Ice Navigation

The Hudson's Bay Company, says the Canadian Railway and Marine World, has ordered from Armstrong-Whitworth & Shipbuilding Company, Ardrossan, Scotland, a single screw steamship for ice navigation, with the following dimensions:—Length between perpendiculars, 239 feet; moulded breadth, fifty-one feet; moulded depth of superstructure deck, thirty-one and a quarter feet; deadweight, 8,500 tons, on a mean draft of twenty-one feet. It will have two complete decks, top gallant forecastle and cruiser stern and will be built under Lloyd's Special Survey for a hundred A1 certificate of class with freeboard, and to B.O.T. requirements for a passenger certificate. The hull will be specially strengthened to resist ice pressure, and the equipment throughout will be a most comprehensive and up-to-date one. The main propulsion machinery will consist of triple expansion engines obtaining steam from three forced draft boilers and capable of driving the ship at fourteen knots. The features of the company's Ss. Naopole will be embodied in the new ship, with such improvements as experience has suggested. She will be named Bay Rupert.

NEW ZION CITY, PLANNED FOR B.C., TO BE BROADMINDED

Establishment in British Columbia, possibly in the rich Lerdau Valley, of a new Zion City, similar to the famous religious community of that name in Illinois, has been brought step nearer realization as a result of the visit here of C. P. Caldwell, assistant overseer of the Zion City established by the Apostle Dowse.

Mr. Caldwell has been conducting negotiations with the C.P.R. for some time, and has taken up the establishment of the colony with officials of the Provincial Department of Lands here. He went to Vancouver to-day to further negotiations.

If Zion City, B.C., comes into existence, it will be the second colony of its kind since the war to pick this Province as a home. The Standard Bible Students, who came to Victoria a few years ago, have now established themselves at Sooke, and have taken control of fishing, agricultural and other industries.

Mr. Caldwell said that it was not proposed to run the new Zion City on lines as exclusive as those of the Illinois centre, where a sign at the city limits warns visitors that tobacco is barred, and those caught smoking are fined by the city magistrate, and where modesty of women's dress is enforced, drinking and swearing banned. Mr. Caldwell said that the B.C. colony would be open to anyone.

CRITICISM POURS ON AIR FORCE LEADERS

U.S. Board Declared Incompetent to Draft Air Policies

Colonel Mitchell Assails U.S. Army General Staff

Washington, Sept. 29.—Colonel William Mitchell, who precipitated the aircraft row, to-day poured another avalanche of criticism on the heads of those charged with administering the nation's air services.

Testifying before the President's Air Board, he assailed the army general staff, declared it incompetent to draft air policies and placed upon its officers the blame for what he described as an impoverished and inadequate air defence.

The colonel dropped verbal bombs on the navy, charging its ranking officials with looking upon aviation as a subordinate adjunct of defence. He advocated pushing the fleet to sea to fight "where it belongs."

Colonel Mitchell, called after Lieutenant-Colonel Benjamin D. Foulois, commander of Mitchell Field, L.I., had testified, reiterated his demand for a department of national defence, which he declared should be established by next Congress.

YOUNG MAN INJURED IN MOTORCYCLE CRASH

Howard Raynor, son of Dr. M. Raynor, was injured when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile driven by Dr. J. P. Vye on Gorge Road at 1 p.m. to-day. Mr. Raynor suffered a broken leg and an injury to one foot. He was rushed by Dr. Vye to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was reported as resting easily this afternoon.

Finds Cassiar Rich Field For Mining

The Cassiar district provides a great field for hydraulic, placer and quartz mining, according to word sent down by J. H. Hawthorth, president of the Stewart Consolidated Gold Mines, who has been for some weeks in the district investigating conditions.

Mr. Hawthorth will return to Victoria in about two weeks, he says, hoping to beat the cold weather that is now descending upon the interior.

Gordon Noel Money, is down from Qualicum and is at the Empress Hotel.

Mayor Carl Pandray was last night instructed by the City Council to investigate and settle a claim by Miss Ruth Melville for replacement of eyeglasses broken when she used her handbag to smother a grass fire started by lads. The fire wardens refused to recommend payment of the account of $15, to avoid setting a precedent.

The British Columbia Historical Association is now making preparations for the unveiling of the cairn erected by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada on Gonzales Heights. The ceremony will take place in November. It is a monument to the discovery and early exploration of the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Miss L. M. Smith, the well-known artist from Boston, is exhibiting a large number of attractive water-colours at the Empress Hotel to-morrow afternoon and evening. A few of the outstanding pictures are "The Breakers," a story of the sea; "The Bass Rocks," "The Return of the Fishing Fleet," "Florida Sunset," "The Sand Dunes," "Evening," and "The Afterglow."

Denying any possibility of an increase in the Esquimalt municipal taxes in 1926, Reeve Matheson last night reviewed briefly the financial situation of the municipality and found it to be sound. A declaration was made by the council at its meeting last night that the reports of a low financial ebb were unfounded. A decrease rather than an increase was anticipated for 1926.

The J.B.A.A. is planning to hold one of its popular dances on Friday, October 15, when several surprise novelties will be presented. The dance committee, whose personnel includes C. Walls, Don Cameron, Bud Hosking, Hugh Sheret and Ben McMillan, have engaged the services of the Washington Collegiate Orchestra for the occasion and some of the newest dance hits will be given.

Because of lack of opportunity to peruse copies of the proposed "Urban and Rural Planning Bill 1924," the City Council last night tabled a report from the legislative committee which endorsed the principle of the measure. Alderman Todd, chairman in the absence of Mayor Pandray, urged careful study of the bill, "From what I see of it, I am opposed to this bill, maybe on closer study I will change my mind," he said.

"Your wife looks stunning to-night. Her gown is a poem."

"What do you mean, poem?" replied the struggling author.

"It is two poems and a short story."

MORE ONEROUS IMPOSTS HAVE PRECEDENCE OVER SUCCESSION DUTY CUT

Hon. Dr. J. D. MacLean Holds Firmly to Wisdom of Imposition of Succession Duties; Outlines Justice of Levy to Kiwanis Club.

Dr. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, told the Kiwanis Club to-day that the Provincial Government will not abandon succession duties. He considered that when reduction of taxation becomes practicable, other imposts will have precedence in reduction.

"The subject of succession duties is controversial at this time, and I am glad to find in this Kiwanis Club a group of men desiring to understand this matter. It is right that you should have specific information on matters which you are called upon to express opinions upon from time to time," said the Minister.

ALL HAVE SUCH TAXES

"Practically every Anglo-Saxon country has such a tax as our succession duty. The rate is usually about one per cent on small estates, and there is usually an exempted estate of small size. In British Columbia that exempted estate is $15,000 and is exempt. Estates of $25,000 on the average pay $250, and estates up to $250,000 would pay 2½ per cent. Above that, as a general rule, the levy is four per cent. These basic rates are supported in all countries imposing this form of tax. Dr. MacLean pointed out.

"A succession duty is a debt due the state or crown. It cannot be avoided. Once it has been assessed it remains against the estate until paid," he said.

ALL ROUSE COMPLAINT

Referring to the agitation for abolition of succession duties, Mr. MacLean recalled that other taxes have, at some time, been the subject of similar abolition agitation.

"Taxation is a concomitant of civilization. It is money put in a fund for the administration of the various functions of society. All here believe in taxation. I am sure, and will agree our system is reasonable. I therefore make the assertion that a succession duty is one of the fairest forms of taxation."

PAY FOR SECURITY

"What is it makes land valuable? What is the lack in Russia that has made land valueless?"

"You in your lifetime have built up an estate, you express in your will the intention that your property shall go to some specified beneficiary. What makes that possible of accomplishment? It is not the fact of existence of a stable government? If that is so, should not the power that makes bequeathment possible have an equitable claim to some portion of the bequest it makes possible?"

"Think of those inheriting; they are without labor. Surely they should make some contribution to the power making inheritance possible!"

WELL-ESTABLISHED

"Is this a new tax? Great Britain has had it since 1853, since the time of the 1853. Some people think the Old Country is a little bit slow, but when you examine the actions of the British, you find that they are not slow. The British have had this tax for eighty years."

"What did Winston Churchill do recently when commenting on the burden of taxation as being very grievous? He increased succession duties and increased income taxation, Dr. MacLean declared.

NOT INFORMED

"In the United States this agitation for abolition of succession duties commenced, being quickly followed by Canadian provinces. I am sure that these people are not fully conversant with the facts. Taxation is a most difficult problem, and it is only too easy to make mistakes."

"Many of the problems in the United States do not exist in this country. If I lived to the south of the United States, I would certainly make some changes, though I would not favor abolition of succession duties."

OTHER TAXES CUT FIRST

The budget system in vogue in Canadian provinces was outlined. The first duty of Finance Ministers is to balance his budget, and when I look over taxation I find there are other taxes I should eliminate before I abandon succession duties," he declared emphatically.

The Federal Government of Canada does not levy this tax, leaving it to the Provincial resource, while in the United States the Federal Government makes this charge. In addition all the states impose this levy and overlap each other. Dr. MacLean

MODERATE POLICY

The policy of the Government regarding succession tax unpaid in past years of casual administration was outlined. "Since 1920 we have been more careful in this matter, and have audited old estates and found that in settlement of larger estates the Government had lost $128,000 from faulty collection. These sums we have since collected, while errors in rate have been adjusted totaling large sums."

"Where the estate is large and in other hands than the original beneficiaries, we are not bothering the holders, save when investigation shows an attempt to hide the facts and deliberately deprive this Province of money justly its due," he said, in concluding amid prolonged applause.

Mrs. A. D. Bechtel was a bridge hostess last night, after dinner, her guests including Mrs. L. W. Cockburn, Mrs. J. A. Rithet, Mrs. J. W. Lennox, Mrs. Goulding Wilson, Mrs. J. D. Huxford, B. S. Heisterman and Mrs. Billings.

MAYOR PLANS FIGHT FOR HANDLING OF SALT FISH TRADE

Will Ask Chamber of Commerce to Start Campaign For New Export Business

"Thirty-four thousand tons of salted fish was last year exported from the Barkley Sound district by way of Vancouver. I am going to advise the Chamber of Commerce to take up with the shippers and shipping concerns the handling of this trade through Victoria," announced Mayor Carl Pandray this morning, upon his return from Seattle, where he has been making inquiries as to the possibility of diverting this shipping business to Victoria.

"I am assured by the Coast agents of the Blue Funnel Line that their vessels would gladly share in this business."

"The Nippon Yusen Kaisha also would take 1,000 tons of available here for loading."

"I believe that the Chamber of Commerce would be able to go from the B.C. Coast Steamship Service a better rate than that at present effective between the West Coast and Vancouver, as the haul would be so much shorter and Victoria is the home port of the fleet."

"On the basis of fifty cents per ton port charges, the income from this business would be $17,000 and is bound to increase. Shipments of fertilizer from plants now being proposed would also come here once the fish business is obtained."

"Success by the Chamber of Commerce would give much additional employment to Victoria."

SOWASH AND BAKER OPEN FIGHT FOR LIVES TUESDAY

Convicted Men's Application Goes to Appeal Court in Vancouver

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Harry F. Sowash, alias Meyers, and Owen B. Baker, convicted last June at Victoria for the murder of Captain William J. Gillis, on board his launch, the Beryl G, off Sidney Island, in September, 1924, will make a last effort for their lives before the court of Appeal here next Tuesday. R. C. Lowe, Victoria, who was successful in having a two months' reprieve granted the condemned men who were sentenced to hang, will represent Baker, while R. B. Harvey has been appointed by the Crown to act for Sowash who had no counsel previously.

Should the appeal be refused the men will hang November 4.

SIR HENRY GRAY AND CURRIE CLASH

Surgeon in Chief Resigns From Royal Victoria Hospital

Charges Campaign of Calumny was Instituted Against Him

Montreal, Sept. 29.—Sir Henry Gray, K.B.E., surgeon-in-chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, resigned his position last evening.

In letters published in local newspapers to-day, an interchange between Sir Henry and Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University, Sir Henry expressed resentment against "a campaign of calumny which was instituted at a very early stage and carried on with veiled but sinister violence" against him.

Sir Arthur Currie's letter, to which Sir Henry's is a reply, mentions "the unfortunate difficulties which arose in medical circles following your appointment as surgeon-in-chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital," declaring that they had created an atmosphere distasteful to him.

Sir Arthur expressed appreciation for the assistance rendered by Sir Henry to McGill University teaching the medical clinical classes of McGill, and in suggesting that the relations between Sir Henry and McGill terminate, assures Sir Henry that he is not influenced by personal feeling.

REGINA SWEEP BY SNOWSTORM TO-DAY

Early This Afternoon Thermometer Touched Freezing Point

Regina, Sept. 29.—Regina was today swept by a snowstorm which had developed into the proportions of a little blizzard toward noon. Two and a half inches of snow had fallen at 11 o'clock. As the snow fell the temperature dropped and early this afternoon the official thermometer for the district registered 32, the freezing point.

Canadian Daughters' League Resumes Its Winter Meetings

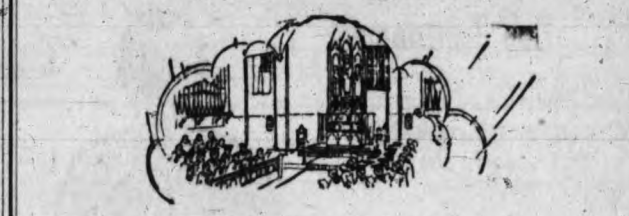

Much important business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Provincial Daughters' League, held in the Native Sons' Hall last evening. There was a good attendance and five new members were initiated and heartily welcomed to the assembly.

A suggestion from the grand council that a bursary fund be created for Canadian girls received hearty endorsement and a substantial sum was voted towards this fund. It was decided to affiliate with the Oriental Exclusion League and the sum of $500 was voted to the League.

Mrs. G. Gardiner, Mrs. W. Green and Mrs. S. A. Pomeroy were appointed delegates.

The next meeting of the assembly will be devoted to the study of the question of Canadian industries. Several members will give short talks followed by a round table discussion on the different phases of the question. It was also decided to resume the Provincial Nights which proved so successful last winter, and the next provincial programme will

Tie For Medalist Honors In Ladies' Golf Tournament

Mrs. Philbrick, Defending Champ, and Miss I. Wilson to Play-off; Shot 91

Excellent Golf Played Yesterday at Colwood; First Round Being Played To-day

Some excellent golf was seen in the qualifying round of the ladies' city championship played yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club. Mrs. Philbrick, the titleholder, and Miss Isabel Wilson tied for the medalist honors, each having a card of ninety-one for the eighteen holes. Considering the fact that the ladies played off the men's tees the scores were very good. Colwood never is conducive to low scores. Arrangements have been made for Mrs. Philbrick and Miss Wilson to play-off after the championship is decided.

Fifteen ladies made sure of places in the championship flight, while Mrs. Burnes, Miss Schwenger, have to play off for the sixteenth place. They tied with 107. Those who were successful in qualifying were as follows: Mrs. Philbrick, Miss Isabel Wilson, Miss M. Wilson, Mrs. Parry, Mrs. Wilding, Mrs. Abell, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Pocock, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Fairclairn, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Rasmussen.

PLAYING ALL WEEK

The ladies are playing their first round matches to-day and will continue through the week. A great deal of interesting golf is expected as all the leading players in town are in the running.

The scores in yesterday's medal round were as follows: Mrs. Philbrick 91, Miss I. Wilson 91, Miss M. Wilson 92, Mrs. Parry 92, Mrs. Wilding 95, Mrs. Abell 96, Mrs. Lambert 96, Mrs. Pocock 98, Mrs. Patterson 98, Mrs. Boyd 101, Mrs. Hutchinson 102, Mrs. Fairclairn 104, Mrs. Ross 105, Mrs. Stevens 105, Mrs. Rasmussen 105, Mrs. Burnes 107, Miss Schwenger 107, Mrs. Godfrey 109, Mrs. Richards 109, Mrs. King 111, Miss Richards 112, Mrs. Carr 112, Mrs. Fraser 113, Mrs. Richardson 114, Miss Lovell 117, Miss Fraser 119, Mrs. Gore 120, Mrs. Barton 120, Mrs. Leeming 120, Mrs. Gray 121, Mrs. Howell 121, Mrs. Moore 121, Mrs. C. ## Davis Cup Stars May Play in Exhibition Games Here Shortly

There is still a possibility that American, French and Spanish Davis Cup stars may be seen in action in Vancouver and Victoria before the season is finally closed. Secretary E. J. Cardinal of the P.N.W. announced yesterday that strenuous efforts are being made to induce two sets of players to make the trip to B.C. before they leave the continent.

Tilden, Alonzo, Chapin, and Norton are on their way to Los Angeles, where they play on October 4 and 5. Mr. Goss of Portland, delegate of the P.N.W. to the U.S.T.A., is in touch with President Mesereau endeavoring to induce the quartette to make the P.N.W. circuit, and in that event would include Vancouver and Victoria.

Borotra, winner of the Wimbledon championship last year, is also westward-bound in company with Brugnot, also of the French team. They play in San Francisco and while there will be the guests of Dr. Summer Hardy. A visit from these stars would undoubtedly prove a great attraction.

B.C. Varsity is Planning Active Rugby Schedule

Vancouver, Sept. 29 (Canadian Press).—Plans for an increase in the inter-collegiate rugby schedule of the University of British Columbia are under consideration, according to Barre Gault, manager of the Varsity squad.

Washington State Normal School of Bellingham wired the university manager yesterday requesting a game there on either October 31 or November 14 to be played under all-American rules.

The latter date will be accepted, as October 31 is the date of the University of Washington game here. College of Puget Sound is sending a rugby scout here Saturday to watch the Varsity team in action and arrange the weight limit for their game October 10.

SCHNEIDER SIGNED FOR BOUT

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Bert Schneider, formerly of Montreal but now of New York, Olympic champion in 1920 and formerly welterweight champion of Canada, will meet George Field, of Toronto, present titleholder, in a ten-round championship boxing match here on Friday night.

Bobby Ebers, of Hamilton, former bantamweight champion, who is staking a comeback in the hope of meeting Vic Foley of Vancouver, present champion, will meet George Field, of Toronto, in the semi-final event of ten rounds.

Now a Toronto Champ

MARTIN STRAITH

Local golfers will be interested to know that Martin Straith is the new champion of the Mississauga Golf Club, of Toronto, one of the largest and most important golf clubs in Canada. Before leaving this city three years ago to enter business in Toronto, Martin was a member of the Colwood Golf Club. Since his arrival in Toronto his associations with the famous family of Thompsons, Canada's greatest golfers, and other notables on the golf links have come along very rapidly. Last week he scored his greatest triumph when he defeated Frank Scott by 7 and 6 in the final for the Mississauga championship. Martin had a seventy-eight in the morning round, while he went out in the afternoon with a score of 71. He is a native of the town of Mississauga, which is quite a distance from the monthly handicap the same week.

West's Will Tackle Dockers In First Division Saturday

Two Keen Rivals to Meet at Royal Athletic; Two Other Matches Scheduled

Veterans Will Journey to Ladysmith; Have Signed a New Centre-forward

Two keen soccer rivals, the Victoria Wests and Esquimalt, will clash in the First Division on Saturday afternoon. The game will be played at the Royal Athletic Park and keen interest will be taken in the match. In all their matches last season the keenest competition was seen.

Two other games scheduled for Saturday being the Sons of England and James Island together at Work Point and United Services and Victoria United at Beacon Hill. All the matches will commence at 3 o'clock.

With the Wests holding a team which includes many tireless youngsters, they are expected to give the speedy Dockers a hard game. The greenhorns sprang a complete surprise last week when they downed the Sons of England. In a couple of weeks they will have Ted Dunn on their line-up. He will pair along with Harry Copas at full-back. Ted is another youngster but he has a good head and packs a good hefty kick. Esquimalt proved by their exhibition against the Services last Saturday that they are to be reckoned with again this season.

ISLANDERS TO APPEAR

James Island will make their initial appearance on a Victoria ground when they tackle the Sons of England at Work Point. The Islanders put up a great game against Victoria United last Saturday but lost out. The Englishmen will field a strong line-up and are not worrying over their defeat last week.

A good match should be seen at Beacon Hill between the Services and Victoria United. The latter demonstrated last week that they have a strong team. The Services have a formidable team and should be able to give the United a good game.

The Veterans will play their first game away from home in the Pacific Coast League when they journey up-Island next Sunday to take on Ladysmith. This is the initial meeting of these clubs, and a fine match is expected. The Vets will take up a strong team and hope to chalk up their first victory in the new league.

According to an announcement this morning the Vets have signed a new centre-forward to take the place of Coulter. It is not known yet whether or not he will be here in time to play against Ladysmith on Sunday.

Scott and McInnes Lucky In Reaching Another Big Series

"Iron Man" Joined Washington to Sub For "Peck" Whom He Succeeded on Yanks

"Stuffy" Links up With Pittsburg and Will Play in Sixth World's Series

New York, Sept. 29.—Time has been kind to two baseball veterans who will participate in the coming world series clash between Washington and Pittsburg, Everett Scott and John Phelan McInnes. And for the later a great record will have been made complete for he will join the Athletics of more than a decade ago in the matter of having been a part of six clashes for the world's title. Scott went from the Yankees to Washington to understudy Peckinpough.

Frank Baker, Jack Barry and Eddie Collins are linked in the record for participation in the annual classic along with Babe Ruth and Wally Schang, another of Mack's great teams of the past. Baker, after serving through four victorious years with Philadelphia, journeyed to the New York Yankees, where two additional world's series welcomed him. Barry gained his mark through the Red Sox contests of 1915 and 1916, after playing alongside Baker at Philadelphia. Schang saw prosperous seasons with the Athletics, Red Sox and Yankees, while Ruth also drew extra cheques while a member of the Red Sox and Yankees. The Boston and New York American League clubs also have provided the field for Scott's efforts, and his appearance with Washington this season will make his sixth in the world's event.

RAWLINGS OUT OF SERIES

Pittsburg has few players of world's series experience entered for the coming fray. Four have been through the fire—Babe Adams, McInnes, Earl Smith and Johnny Rawlings—but Rawlings, hero of the giant victory over the Yanks in 1921, is not expected to play, having suffered a broken leg early in September.

Adams gained his experience when he humbled the Detroit Tigers in three games in the series of 1909, and although his arm retains much of its cunning, he cannot be expected to repeat the performance after sixteen years.

Smith alternated with Frank Snyder in 1921 and 1922 when the New York nationals opposed the Yanks. He has been doing much of the catching for the Pirates and undoubtedly will be seen often in the series at hand.

A TEAM OF VETERANS

Washington has an entire team of world's series veterans, having been the Giants for the title a year ago, but only two others than Scott have appeared in more than one series.

One, Roger Peckinpough, while error in the first inning of the final of the 1921 games between the Giants and Yanks allowed McGraw's team to score the only run of the deciding contest. The former Yankee stop was troubled with a bad leg in the series of 1924, but limped around his part some of the time and imparted the sort of spirit that carried the pennant to Washington.

The other is Harry (Nemo) Lef. Joyce, utility outfielder, who played with the victorious White Sox of 1917 and 1919, and was with Washington last year.

Stanley Coveleskie, veteran hurler from Cleveland, but a new comer to the Washington staff, is the man who defeated Brooklyn three times while pitching for the Indians in 1921, and pitched for the Yankees in 1924, and was a winning server in the questionable series of 1919 between the White Sox and Cincinnati.

Baltimore Adds the Scalps of Chicago to Their Collection

Baltimore, Sept. 29.—The Baltimore Orioles, International League champions, defeated the Chicago White Sox in an exhibition game here yesterday, 5 to 3. The Sox, who are in the first class shape, back on Wednesday they will open the "little world's series" with the Colonels, champions of the American Association.

BREAKS COURSE RECORD

Jasper, Alta., Sept. 29.—Playing his third round on the Edmonton Golf Club course in a return match with the professionals of the three Edmonton clubs J. Rimmer, professional at the Jasper Park Lodge course here, lowered the previous record on the difficult Edmonton course to 70, the previous best score being 71.

Rimmer's long drives were a feature. On his first and second times over the course he equalled the course record of 71 which he later reduced.

GETS A JOB IN ENGLAND

London, Sept. 29.—Phil Granville, Hamilton, Ont. walker, has obtained permanent employment in England. He has decided to leave his present position on the Southern Railway at Brighton.

Whether or not he will be here in time to play against Ladysmith on Sunday.

The Vets will leave for Ladysmith by bus on Sunday morning. Anyone wishing to join the party is asked to phone the secretary, W. de Gruchy, at 4187 for reservations.

A meeting of the Veterans' executive council will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Veterans of France club-room. A work-out of players will also be held.

THREE QUEENS WHO REIGN SUPREME

THREE queens of competition. In other words, meet Joyce Wethered, Suzanne Lenglen and Gertrude Ederle. They represent three different nations in as many branches of sport. What Joyce Wethered of England is to golf, Suzanne Lenglen of France to tennis, so is Gertrude Ederle of America to swimming.

You can scan clear to the various corners of the universe without unearthing their individual equals for consistency of performance.

LEADS 'EM ALL

For some years now Joyce Wethered has stood out as the greatest golfer in the fair sex domain. Not only has she annexed the British title on several occasions, but in so doing she's survived the yearly attack of a galaxy of American stars bent on subduing the British lioness in her den.

Only last Summer she sent Glenna Collett, the greatest hope this country has sent across the pond, to a decisive defeat. And when you're whipping Glenna you aren't at a tea dance, either.

Suzanne Lenglen, the incomparable, has ruled the tennis throne over a long and continuous span. She's volleyed her way through an international field at Wimbledon for the last six out of seven seasons. She would doubtless have made it seven in a row but for defaulting, owing to illness in 1924. She has many other crowns to her credit, too.

For flashiness, speed, action, courage—and general all-round ability, Suzanne ranks by herself. She's justly deserving of the title, "world's greatest woman tennis player."

Gertrude Ederle holds much the same position in the swimming firmament. True, the little lass from America failed in her attempt to negotiate the dangerous and treacherous waters of the English Channel. But so have many others before her. During the time she was in the water she made better progress than any other of her sex accomplished, and the general opinion still exists that if a woman is ever to turn the trick, Gertrude Ederle will be the first to put it over.

In her Sandy Hook swim she made faster time than the jaunt has been covered by mere man. And that's saying more than a little.

As a holder of records, she rates pretty much in a class by herself, her only real competitor being Helen Wainwright, who recently turned professional. Joyce Wethered, Suzanne Lenglen and Gertrude Ederle—the three queens of competitive athletics, carrying the standards of as many different nations in a like number of sports. As individual performers in their respective fields they rank supreme.

Good Racing To Be Seen At Colwood Track This Week

Many Thoroughbreds Stabled at Track Awaiting Barrier on Thursday

Followers of the "royal sport" are promised a real good time at the three-day Fall race meeting at Colwood, October 1 to 3 inclusive. Nearly a hundred thoroughbreds will be seen performing, and with the mile track in first class shape, backers are assured of some exciting moments as thrilling finishes should be the order of the day.

The directors of Colwood track have spared no effort to secure good horses for the farewell meeting of the year. Old favorites will gladden the eyes of their backers and new blood will bring additional interest to the meeting.

Because it is the last meeting of the year it is expected that big crowds will attend on each of the three days. Every effort is being made to make the meet the best of the season.

Seven races will be run daily, rain or shine, and in order to make the best use of the daylight, the first race will start at 2 o'clock.

SETS THEM TALKING

MRS. ALEXA STIRLING FRASER

Yesterday at St. Louis, Mo., in the qualifying round of the ladies' golf championship of the United States Mrs. Fraser of Ottawa brought fame to Canada by turning in a card of 77, four strokes under par. It was the lowest score ever made in a qualifying round for the U.S. title. Her performance was considered remarkable in view of the terrible condition of the greens.

BARROW BEAT NELSON

London, Sept. 29 (Canadian Press Cable).—In a third division Northern Section, soccer game yesterday, Barrow defeated Nelson by 1-0.

SWIMMING, GOLF

ZBYSZKO'S AGE IS BEGINNING TO TELL STECHER FLOPS HIM

Los Angeles, Sept. 29.—Joe Stecher successfully defended his claim to the world's heavyweight wrestling championship by defeating the veteran, Stanislaus Zbyszko, two falls out of three, here last night.

The huge Pole took the first fall, pinning the champion to the mat in twenty-two minutes with a crotch hold and half-Nelson. Zbyszko's age seemed to weigh upon him as the bout progressed and Stecher, using his famed scissors hold in both instances, disposed of his opponent in the relatively short time of thirteen minutes, six seconds.

Local Boxers Are Coming To Front With Great Bound

Lewis Matched With Halliday in Vancouver; Interest Over Friday's Bout

Outside opinions on fighters who appear on the Victoria Boxing Club's card indicate that the revival of the game here will realize the ambition to develop local talent. Several of the boys who appear in the preliminaries next Friday when Billy Mascot and Danny Edwards travel ten rounds have chances for head-line places.

C. Lewis, who figured in the whirlwind fight with Young Holliday, Vancouver, and who fights another Vancouver bout on Friday, boxes in Vancouver the following week. In the semi-win-up a Vancouver paper says of the bout:

Young Harvey Holliday, who hasn't been fighting long enough to have a nick name but who is regarded as the best prospect in the northwest at the present time, will be given his first chance to appear in the role of a semi-win-up artist on the next Arena card on October 9, according to present arrangements.

"There's a battle over in Victoria who gave Holliday all he could pack on the Mascot-Foley card. His name is Young Lewis. Holliday took a licking for two rounds and then came back. He boxed his way out of trouble and then proceeded to carry the fight to Mr. Lewis."

"Two of the three officials gave Holliday the call. It was one of the toughest battles of the century and Lewis was a real winner. He outwitted Holliday by a few pounds, but the latter is willing to give him a return go."

TO BE HEADLINER

The winner of the semi-win-up here will get a head-line bout in Nanaimo. In the featherweight class Friday Tommy Fielding fights Andy Teifer six rounds. Fielding is one of Victoria's best bets. Teifer ran right through to the top in the navy, so the bout should be a real whirlwind. Both boys will bear in mind that the winner stars in the main event at Nanaimo with Polette, the young sensation of the Northwest.

All the boys are working hard. Training quarters have been established at the Metropolis, where they do their stick and iron work. It looks as though the preliminaries will well back up the Mascot-Edward battle over which interest is running high.

Galleries Annoy Joyce and Cecil; Decide to Retire

London, Sept. 29.—Joyce Wethered and Cecil Leitch, the two best women golfers in Great Britain, have decided to retire from competition. Neither has entered the English Women's Championship to be played in October. The behavior of the crowds which seem to grow in size and become worse mannered with every successive tournament, is blamed for their retirement.

TUNNEY VS. GIBBONS?

Minneapolis, Sept. 28.—Gene Tunney, who strengthened his bid for a fight with Jack Dempsey by knocking out Bartley Madden in the third round of their bout here Friday night, has been offered $75,000 for a match next Summer with Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul.

Before Tunney and his manager, Billy Gibson, left for Chicago last night, Capt. Billy Fawcett, head of the Twin City Athletic Association, made the proposition.

The contest would depend on Gibbons' return to the ring. The scheduled fight has gone into retirement, at least temporarily, but has expressed a desire to meet Tunney again.

UPPER CANADA CHAMPION

Toronto, Sept. 29.—R. W. Finlayson, of Midland, Ont., swept all before him at the Upper Canada College annual athletic meeting Monday afternoon and won the senior title. He took five firsts and three seconds in winning the senior championship of the college. The junior title honors were divided by R. Walker, Vancouver and A. Alexander of New York, the former winning two firsts and two seconds and the latter three firsts, a total of six points each.

AN EARLY KNOCKOUT

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 29.—"Tiny" Herman, heavyweight pugilist of Astoria, knocked out "Chub" Crawford of Hoquiam in the second round of a scheduled ten-round main event here last night.

George Ingersoll, Astoria welterweight, won over Jimmy Gibbs of Portland, when Gibbs's second throw a towel into the ring in the second.

All But Two Clubs Finishing Season In New Positions

Washington and Cleveland Only Teams to Hold Same Places as Last Year

Every National League Club Changes Its Standing; Cards and Giants Win

New York, Sept. 29.—Barring a fight between the Browns and Tigers for third place in the American, and a Brooklyn-Boston skirmish for fifth in the National, the Major League standings to-day appeared fixed for the year with only two teams in the same positions they held at the close of last year's race. Washington and Cleveland, first and sixth in the American, respectively have been the only clubs to parallel their place of a season ago. Every team in the National will finish in a new place, unless the Phillies put on a closing rush accompanied by a further decline of the Cubs. This would provide opportunity for the former to get out of the cellar. THEY'VE ALL CHANGED

The champion Pittsburg Pirates closed the 1924 season in third place; New York, now second, was on top; the third place Cincinnati Reds were fourth, while the St. Louis Cardinals, completing the 1925 first division picture, last year were sixth. Boston rose from the cellar and is sure of a better position than it held last year, while the Cubs were fifth.

Two second division clubs of 1924 have broken through to the first section this year and a share in the world's series receipts. They are the Philadelphia Athletics, in the American, finishing second this season against fifth last year, and the Cardinals in the National who rose from sixth place in 1924 to fourth place this year. They crowded out two second place clubs, the Yankees dropping this year to seventh in the American and the Robins to fifth in the National.

The first division as constituted to-day, was subject to only one possible change. The White Sox still saw a slender chance of climbing back to fourth place by closing with a rush against Cleveland to profit by the inevitable collapse of the Tigers against the Browns.

THREE GAMES YESTERDAY

Only three games were played yesterday. The Tigers divided a double-header with the Yankees, taking the first six to two and losing the second 7-6. Babe Ruth hit a homer in each contest to run his total to twenty-four. Twenty hits gave the Giants a victory over the Robins while the Cardinals closed their home season by beating the Braves four to one.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn, Sept. 29.—The Giants made a strong finish and won yesterday's game against the Robins, 9 to 7. The Robins had a five-run lead when they started the seventh but the New York team scored three in the seventh and five in the eighth to win the game and the season's series, 12 to 10.

CARDINALS WIN FINAL

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—Victory for the Cardinals marked the close of the National League season here yesterday. The Boston Red Sox were defeated, 4 to 1. Manager Hornsby was unable to play because of a torn nail received in batting. The St. Louis team won the game in the ninth inning owing to Doyle's inability to find the plate.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York, Sept. 29.—New York and Detroit broke even in a double header here yesterday, the Tigers winning the first game, 6 to 3, and the Yankees taking the final, 6 to 6. Ruth hit a homer in each game making his total for the season twenty-four. Jess Doyle, the young pitcher, who had been relieved by George Daus in the sixth inning of the second game and featured with two home runs, but this performance was offset by his wildness on the mound. The Yankees won the game in the ninth inning owing to Doyle's inability to find the plate.

BOUT CALLED OFF

Chicago, Sept. 29.—The ten-round contest between Luis Vicentini, South American lightweight, and Alex. Hart, scheduled for East Chicago last night, was called off after the first round. X-ray examinations revealed Vicentini suffered a broken hand in a match in Detroit last week.

COMMERCIAL BASEBALL

A meeting to wind up affairs for the past season of the Commercial Baseball League will be held in the Tillamook Athletic Club to-night at 8 o'clock. All delegates are requested to attend.

"An hour ago," said the man in the white spats, "I ordered turtle soup."

"Yes, sir," said the waiter.

"Well, that's an absurdly long time to wait."

"In sorry, sir, but you know what turtles are."

"What's the meaning of this?" he exclaimed. "Yesterday you gave me a portion twice as large as this."

"Where did you sit yesterday, sir?"

"At the window, sir."

"Oh, that accounts for it. We always give people by the window larger portions. It's an advertisement."

"My Word!" remarked an old gentleman as he stopped a boy with a fine catch of trout. "You've had a successful day, young man. Where did you catch all these fish?"

"Just walked down that path marked 'Private' and kept right on till you come to a notice, 'Trespassers will be prosecuted.' A few yards farther on there's a fine pool marked 'No fishing allowed,' and there you are, sir!"

Wall Street
TO-DAYLast Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Sept. 29. (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Sharp advances in the specialty group accompanied by short covering were the outstanding influences in the day's dealings. The regular dividend declaration by American Can received but passing notice and the more optimistic prophecies in regard to the action to be taken apparently created little recent outside following in this particular issue as the reaction of disappointment was but a temporary and minor affair, the stock regaining its buoyant tone in short order.

The news generally speaking was without particular significance in influencing the trend. The money market showed advances both in the renewal and ruling rates but there appeared to be such a pronounced desire to cover short commitments that this particular item that had been of such recent influence was viewed to-day as an anticipated month end happening.

In reference to the French debt settlement no further headway was reported and it is now being held that the appearance of a long drawn out affair though quite likely a satisfactory understanding may be the ultimate finding.

While the market made further headway and had a strong outward appearance there were times when the industrial shares sagged perceptibly under the weight of distributive sales and it is quite likely that to-day's covering movement has again weakened the technical structure of the market.

New York, Sept. 29. (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—The evening stock market edition of The Wall Street Journal says:

Seldom in Wall Street's recent history has greater demonstrations of buying power been witnessed than those which took place to-day. Prices pushed ahead with a vigor which swept the bear forces off their feet, and established new highs on the current movement in a broad group of representative industrial.

Paying no attention to the relatively high rates prevailing for call money, the advance proceeded steadily throughout the session on two million share volume. Evidence of the activities of Morgan, First National and other leading banks was afforded in the conspicuous strength displayed by General Motors, American-Canadian and other stocks actively sponsored by these financial groups.

While the rails were considerably less prominent than the industrial in the day's outburst of strength, steady accumulation appeared in progress in Norfolk and Western, Atlantic Coast Line, New York Central, Southern Railway, and other standard investment issues. Some profit-taking in the afternoon dealings served to temper bullish enthusiasm, but the closing levels among the leading issues were not far from the day's high.

Fisher Body is expected to declare a $2 extra at the end of the year, when similar action is looked for from General Motors. Later, Fisher Body will probably be converted into General Motors, share for share.

California petroleum was active around the big hauls of the month-end purchases by California Petroleum at 27 1/2. The street heard reports of a temporary increase in the price of oil, but the market was not affected.

Stocks continued to push rapidly ahead in the early afternoon despite an advance in call money to 5 1/2 per cent, compared with the renewal rate of 5 per cent. This tightening was recognized as a temporary incident in connection with the month-end requirements, and it failed to dampen the ardor of investors working on the constructive side.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 29. (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat: Relative strength in Liverpool and Winnipeg led to an early sharp bulge. Selling was renewed on the turn and the market broke back but the development of independent strength in southwest market attracted a heavy short covering in the late trading, and new highs for the day were recorded. Reports had it that mills were heavy buyers of December wheat in Kansas City and it was pointed out that the spot delivery there was at a premium of 6 cents over the local September an almost unheard of situation.

The movement of wheat in Canada remained heavy but active had it that hedging sales were not so voluminous and the wheat pool sold a large amount of cash grain to the trade in Winnipeg to-day. After such a rapid decline it is only natural that the market should recover to some extent but in view of recent developments it is probable that the swings will be choppy for the immediate future and believe that a trading position should be followed for time being.

Corn: Moved up sharply with the September delivery manifesting most strength. Covering by shorts was urgent and pressure waned as the day went on. The trade feels that the decline in corn had carried too far. Weather conditions over the belt were favorable and country offerings were moderate. Commercial demands active with the premiums steady to firm. The farmer is likely to be a reluctant seller of new crop corn at current prices and we regard the situation as one of wheat purchases on recessions from this level.

Oats: Scored fair gains along with the late. Pressure was moderate throughout and the market was not unduly active. The trade feels that the situation is one of wheat purchases on recessions from this level.

Rye: Advances with other grains. There was little pressure in evidence and it took but moderate support to enhance values. There has been considerable buying of rye recently on the theory that it was too low com-

"HEARTS ADrift"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

(Copyright by Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

She opened the interview without preliminary.
"I sent for you, Mr. Patterson, after a week of thought over the things you said to me the other evening. At first I was deeply offended and pained at having an old wound reopened by a stranger. Later, I began to realize the injustice of not hearing what you had to tell me. I began to realize that, after all, I know nothing of what has happened to the principals in the tragedy that seized this household a few years ago. I deliberately shut my eyes and ears. What you told me about Miss Demerest shocked and pained me. If there is more, I wish to learn of it. Will you tell me what you came to America to say?"

Patterson told her. He omitted no detail of what he had learned from his close association with that strange household at Madame de Marzel's villa—except the fact that Madge had come to show a decided preference for himself. He presented the case frankly and earnestly and Alma listened quietly and without interruption or comment.
Patterson was always engaging. He inspired confidence and trust. But never had he been more so than on that winter afternoon when he talked to the woman, who was only a shell of a woman now, about the husband who had deserted her for another.

It was an amazing, almost an unbelievable situation. It possessed all the elements and the unrealities of drama. It required finesse, diplomacy of the highest order. And yet, Alma Cartwright heard him through with an immobile face.
When he rose to go, feeling keenly the sense of failure, there was a disturbance in the hallway, the sound of rumpling feet.

The door burst open abruptly and a youth in football togs lunged in. He checked himself at sight of Patterson.

"Sorry, Mummy! Nobody told me you had company." His clear, young eyes could not conceal their amazement. It was evident that callers were not usual happenings in the Cartwright home.

"My son," Alma Cartwright introduced him proudly.
He was tall like Cartwright and superbly straight, an athlete with a generous breadth of shoulders for all his youth, long limbed and slim of waist. But his features were like mother's. He had her clear, cool, fearless eyes; her firm mouth, her long, sensitive fingers. His hair was tousled from his recent play in football and blood, represented by this superb specimen of American youth.

Patterson, thinking suddenly of the father, pampering himself in the warm sunlight of the Riviera, felt a little twinge of pity for the man who had destroyed his own life to such complete degree that he had forfeited all claim to play on flesh and blood, represented by this superb specimen of American youth.

When the boy had gone away, Patterson said kindly:
"He is splendid, superb, a son to be proud of."

"He will never do anything to hurt me—not with my daughter," Alma answered proudly.
"And I hope, Mrs. Cartwright,"

ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK NOW
Sick a Year. Got Great Benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomington, N.S.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and backache, also for nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I was troubled in this way for over a year, and a friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and induced me to take it. I must say I have received great benefit from it and am able to do my housework now. I recommend the Vegetable Compound myself and am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. WILLIAM MORSE, Bloomington, Annapolis County, Nova Scotia.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Mrs. Morse is simply another case of a woman receiving "great benefit" from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women suffering from the troubles so common to their sex should listen to what other women say who have experienced the same sufferings and found relief. Give this dependable medicine a chance—and at once. It is sold at all drug stores.

LITHUANIAN CREATES SCENE AT MEETING

Becomes Excited During Debate on Minorities' Complaints

Geneva, Sept. 29.—Shouting defiantly of the League of Nations council, M. Galvanuskas, former Lithuanian Premier and now Minister to Great Britain, stamped angrily out of the meeting yesterday in the midst of debate on the convention defining the status of the Memel territory.

The action was inspired by the council's decision regarding complaints sent to the League from minorities under Lithuanian rule. The council instructed the secretary-general to transmit copies of such complaints to all the council members, leaving them free to call the matter to the council's attention if the complaints appeared to warrant such action.

"It is none of the secretary-general's business to forward such information at the League's expense," shouted M. Galvanuskas. "You have all got foreign ministers and other diplomatic agents to inform you. When protests reach you, why don't you take them up with us first, and give us a chance to investigate?"

U.S. GOVERNMENT LODGES APPEAL IN TEAPOT DOME CASE

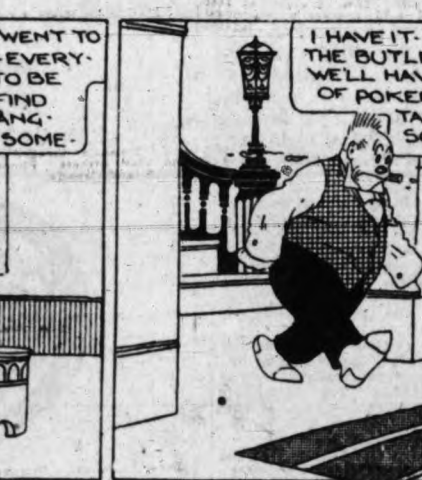

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—Containing sixty-four assignments of errors, the appeal of the Government in the Teapot Dome oil lease case was filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today by C. M. Watts, assistant United States attorney of Cheyenne, representing Alcee Pomeroy and O. J. Roberts, special government counsel.

The appeal, citing exceptions to the decision of Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy of Cheyenne, handed down last June 19, which upheld the lease of the oil land to the Sinclair interests after the Government charged it was fraudulently transacted, was filed too late to be heard at the December term of court. It probably will not be decided for a year.

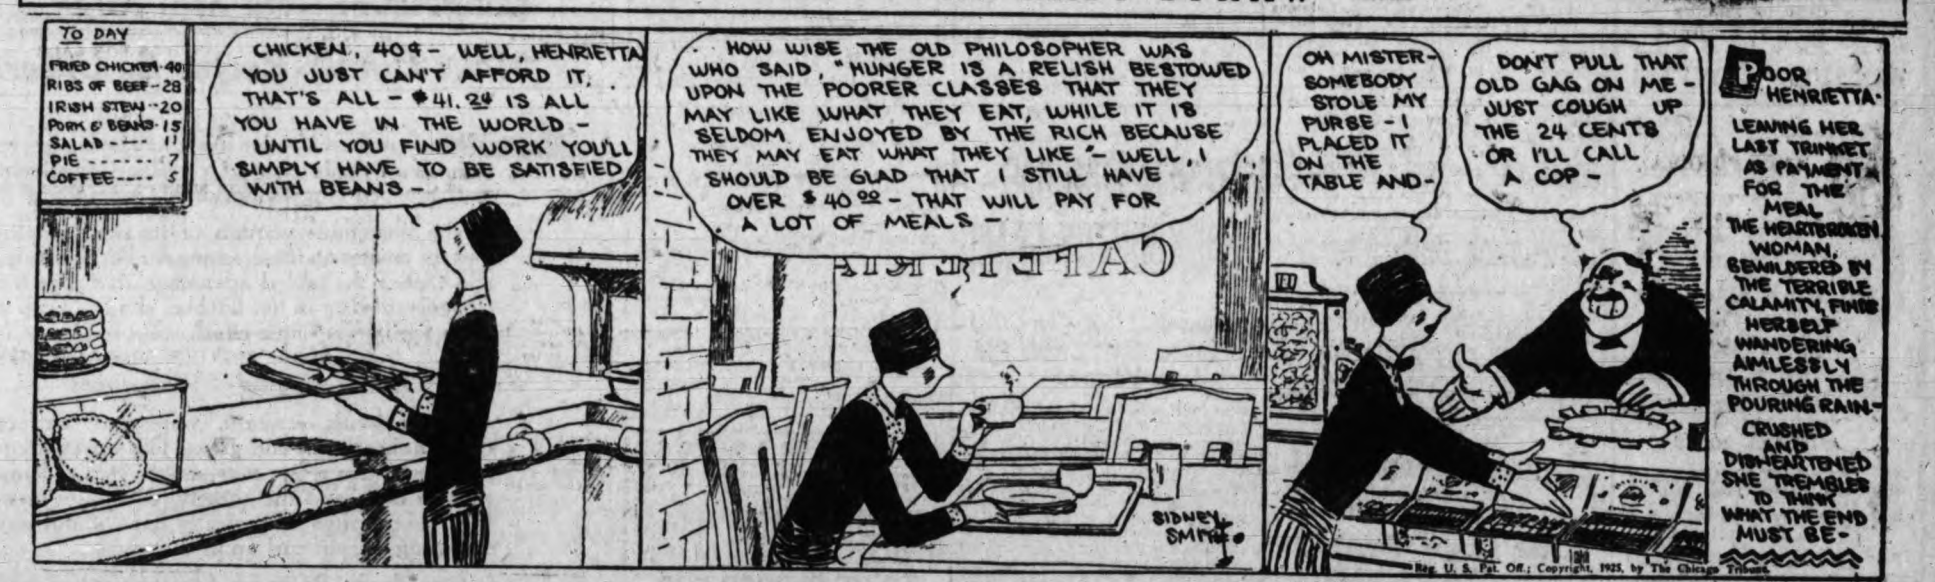

Unless a special order is made by the court for placing the case on the May docket, which is heard at St. Paul, the case will be reviewed by the higher court in St. Paul in December, 1926.

LEGAL ADVISOR OF EAGLES IS VISITOR

Conrad H. Mann Will Consult With Local Aerie on Building Plans

The Victoria aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will consult with Conrad H. Mann, auditor and legal adviser of the Order on their plans for building in Victoria during his stay in Victoria. With Frank Le Roy, president of the Victoria Eagles, Mr. Mann was a delegate to the dedication ceremony of the new building of the Seattle Eagles. The fine home which they have just occupied there is claimed to be the best owned by any fraternal organization on the continent. In the course of a speech delivered at the ceremony Mr. Mann dealt comprehensively with the aims of the Order. In part, he said:

"Our Order is clean in membership. It is true that the wage earner predominates within our Order, but it is also true that business and professional men alike are affiliated with us by the thousands. Naturally, anyone who is solicited for membership in a fraternity had a right to inquire as to the class of men that compose such fraternity. If he finds they are clean of mind and clean of body he is more apt to sign on the 'dotted line' than he would if conditions were reversed. So at this moment I am happy to be in a position to state to you that the membership of our fraternity compares favorably with the membership of any other fraternity, regardless of what name it may bear."

"It is the aim of our Order, through its various subordinate aeries, to pay benefits due our members, under our laws, and to pay them promptly. And this is a truthful statement, that today, as well as during the last ten years, no claim has been presented to any subordinate aerie for either sick or funeral benefit that has not been promptly paid, for the treasures of our subordinate aeries are well fortified, thanks to the enactment of the benefit fund law at Spokane in 1916, which provides that certain sums of money paid monthly by the members shall be set aside and shall be used for the purpose of paying benefits only."

EARLY DAYS
"This wonderful Order, which stands for so much in fraternal activity, was organized here in Seattle on February 14, 1898. In other words, we are nearing our 25th birthday. Some of the founders of this Order are still alive, others have gone to their reward."

"It is needless for me to say that none of them ever dreamed that in this small beginning they would sow the seed of an organization that has at the present time affiliated under its banner more than 600,000 men, and has total assets of upward of $35,000,000."

"It is needless to say that none dreamed that the organization which was born on that winter day would pay within 25 years $23,495,847.49 in sick benefits. That would pay during the same time $5,680,585.09 in funeral benefits. That would pay during the same time $9,294,640.43 for aerie physicians' salaries. That would pay during the same time for other worthy causes $128,856,723.18."

"It will undoubtedly be of interest to you to know that at the present time we have under construction nearly $2,000,000 worth of Eagle homes. You undoubtedly notice I omit using 'Eagle' clubs. I prefer to call them home. I want the boy to remember his home as long as he can. I want to do all I can to keep him in close touch with the ties that bind him to his home. I want to help prepare him for his duty as a father."

"Aside from our fraternal activity we have carried on and participated in all of those things that meant greater happiness for the average home."

MEIGHEN NOW HAS BANKRUPTCY FEARS

Progress of C.N.R. Gives Conservative Chief Cause For Alarm

Fort William, Sept. 29.—"I have never proposed an amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways," said Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, in the course of a speech here last night in support of the candidature of Hon. R. J. Manion in the constituency of Fort William. I have plainly stated over and over again that the flooding of new capital into the system for Scribe hotels, luxuries of every kind, new real estate investments, radio systems and the like must cease. If they don't, then bankruptcy will result and that is the worst of all."

Mr. Meighen linked with the railway problem the question of immigration, and accused the King Government of having given the country "policies galore, but no immigrants."

"Unless we pour people into the country we cannot make the railways pay," he added, and "how in the world can you expect people to come to Canada if there is no work for them to do?"

A PLANE THAT FLAPS ITS WINGS—Here is a model of the "orniplane," new type aeroplane invented by Capt. James E. Kempf, (right), which flies by flapping the lower wings instead of using a propeller. Capt. Kempf intends to build sport planes of this type, to weigh only 150 pounds, and cost $300. Paul Garber, who assisted Capt. Kempf in constructing the model, is shown at the left.

AUCTION SALE BRINGS LARGE TAX INCOME

Buyers Shoulder $18,000 Share in City's Tax Bill

Unreserved Sale Brought $149,010 For Properties Listed at $231,073

Showing the tremendous importance to the citizens of Victoria of return of reverted properties to the tax-roll, a statement of the recent civic auction sale of lands, was last night presented to the Council and tabled for study.

These lands hereafter will contribute $18,177 to the city treasury in taxes, on the present mill rate.

In addition to cash payments made on the lands, which in many cases is the full price, the city will this year realize $4,958.13 in taxes from the date of the sale, the report shows.

Of the 150 parcels offered at the sale 149 were sold, one purchaser defaulting. The total realized by the sale was $149,010. The aggregate price at which the city had been holding these properties prior to the sale had been $231,073.16.

For the period from the day of the auction sale until the end of the year, taxes amounting to $2,246.27 will have to be paid on improved properties; and, on vacant property sold, the tax total will be $2,812.88.

The amount of local improvement taxes assumed by purchasers on improved properties is $3,829.99, and the proportion of the 1925 instalment on these is $369.42.

The city total expenditure on advertising account was $4,104.78.

The ten-per-cent deposits received by Auctioneer C. E. Austin, on behalf of the city, amounted to $14,901.

The commission account is as follows:

Fifty improved properties sold for $93,525. 2 1/2% commission payable now as per agreement ..... $ 2,338.12
Ninety-nine vacant properties sold for $55,488. 2% commission payable now as per agreement ..... 2,774.25

Commission due C. E. Austin Company ..... $ 5,112.37
Total deposits received by C. E. Austin Company ..... 14,901.00
Less commission due C. E. Austin Company ..... 5,112.37

Cheque paid into City Treasurer ..... $ 9,788.63

The balance of commission due C. E. Austin Company is payable when the second payment of 15 per cent is made to the city.

ATHLETIC PARK TO BE CLOSED FOR DRAINING WORK

Council Votes $6,000 For Immediate Improvement

Tennis Club Enlarges Its Grounds

Improvement of the Royal Athletic Park will cost $25,000, over a term of years, and prospective gate receipts justify expenditure of $6,000 upon grading and draining in the course of the next few weeks, Alderman Marchant, chairman of the parks committee, last night assured the city council.

Alderman Marchant regretted the necessity of asking for investment of capital in the park this year, but was confident improvement would prove good business.

"If we do not do this work, and more next year, we will lose many of these attractions. The estimates of revenue are conservative, I am confident they will be exceeded; yet the figures before us show that this expenditure will be profitable," he said.

The council voted the $6,000 required for the improvement, and the

DISLIKES GIVING SAANICH REFUND OF WATER OVERCHARGE

Council Urged to Apply $1,335 Excess to Sewer Account

"Keep the money as an offset to the $60,000 Saanich owes us for sewer," advised Alderman Woodward last night, when the City Council was informed that Victoria had, because of faulty meters, overcharged Saanich $1,335 for water in August. As the account had been paid by Saanich the finance committee advised a refund be made.

Alderman Woodward urged the council to ignore the recommendation but found no support.

NO HASTE SEEN
"Refer to next year's council" was heard last night in the City Council Chamber for the second time this year, when Alderman Brown moved that course be taken with an invitation to Victoria from the Royal Sanitary Institute, of London, England, to send delegates to the Imperial Sanitary Congress to be held in London in July, 1926.

Alderman Woodward met with competition when he jovially suggested himself as delegate, Alderman Todd, as chairman, fearing some of the nominees had forgotten municipal election perils.

HAS NO PLAN
Asked by the Esquimalt Board of Trade for information as to the Victoria City Council's proposals for Greater Victoria, the council last night ordered Clerk Bradley to supply the Board of Trade with correspondence with Oak Bay, to the effect that the council has no concrete scheme but is willing to discuss amalgamation with any group of citizens.

spruce running up to 250 years.

In forests of this kind it is no uncommon thing to find a spruce of less than three inches in diameter on the stump and twelve to fifteen feet high, which is already fifty to one hundred years old. (This is the result of suppression under the deep shade of other trees).

The big old White Pines which are sometimes found among the Spruce and Balsam may be anything up to 300 year old. The farther north you go the slower is the rate of growth; one large paper company situated on a northern river, is basing its calculations for supply on a hundred-year period of growth—and this for pulpwood, not saw logs.
